5	dolased forte	I don't think you have a problem with your mainspring since I think you said you had inserted a pellet and just couldn't get the gun to fire so you re-opened the barrel? It's more common that your spring could break or become canted when you dry fire (fire without a pellet)It's more likely that you bend the barrel and/or crack the stock by firing a breakbarrel with the barrel open.
